

Assam Jatiya Bidyalay Movement is unique and excellent, says Homen Borgohain.

Guwahati, 4 May, 2018 : A get-together of all Jatiya Bidyalays 'Sampriti Samaroh' was organised on 3rd May, 2018 at Pragjyoti Cultural Complex, Machkhowa, Guwahati where around 500 representatives from Jatiya Bidyalays across Assam took part to make it a grand celebration. This programme was a part of the year-long Silver Jubilee celebration of Assam Jatiya Bidyalay, Noonmati, Guwahati. Eminent scholar and journalist Homen Borgohain attended the function as the chief guest and in his speech he said that Assam Jatiya Bidyalay movement has been playing a pivotal role all over Assam during such a period when Assamese culture, tradition and language are facing a crisis due to the aggression of outside elements. He termed this movement as that of a life boat of a drowning ship. The others speakers included eminent educationist Lakshminath Tamuly, the editor-in-chief of Pratidin Times Nitumoni Saikia, Rector of the school Ranjit Narayan Deka, Dr. Narayan Sharma, the secretary of the management committee, Dilip Kumar Dutta Choudhury, the president of the management committee, Ghanashyam Medhi, the Principal of the school and Rabindra Barman, HoD, Mathematics. In this programme, all together 57 Jatiya Bidyalays from various parts of Assam were given registration certificate of Assam Jatiya Bidyalay Educational Council. Representatives from various schools also spoke on this occasion. This whole day programme was anchored by Ashim Krishna Baruah, the coordinator of AJBEC and former Vice Principal of the school and the convenor of this 'Sampriti Samaroh' was Juthika Patowari, the former Principal of Assam Jatiya Bidyalay, Noonmati.

(Ghanashyam Medhi)

Principal

Assam Jatiya Bidyalay

Noonmati, Guwahati